Subject: Fairness for library workers

b.

Just to say that TPL is probably the best public library service I have used - and that covers America, the UK and Europe. Thus I was sorry to learn that staff feel they are being unfairly treated with respect to both 'gapping' and wage parity. Although I was looking forward to taking some suggestions to Tuesday's forum on the strategic plan, the only valid one under the circumstances that I can think of, is for staff complaints to be addressed forthwith as the entire project depends on their goodwill.
