Dear Minister Sarkaria,

On behalf of the Toronto Public Library Board, I am writing to share a provincial issue that we are highlighting in a letter to all Toronto-area candidates in the upcoming provincial election. The Federation of Ontario Public Libraries (FOPL) and Ontario Library Association (OLA) are also advocating for this issue. The letter to all Toronto-area candidates outlines key issues and opportunities facing public libraries, and requests support in three main priority areas to ensure all Ontarians have access to library services that have the power to meaningfully improve lives.

One of these priority areas is the creation of an Ontario Digital Public Library to provide critical e-learning support and fair access to modern, digital resources for all Ontario public libraries. By leveraging the Province's significant purchasing power, our libraries can give all Ontarians access to a common core set of high-quality e-learning & online resources and more e-books.

In my letter of July 2021, I underscored the essential role libraries play in helping the Province achieve its digital strategy objectives. Sustainable library funding to provide access and digital inclusion is critical.

On behalf of the Toronto Public Library Board, thank you for your attention to the enclosed letter that we will send to all candidates once the nomination period is closed. Should you have any questions or wish to discuss, please contact the City Librarian's Office at citylibrarian@tpl.ca or 416-393-7032.

SAMPLE CANDIDATE LETTER

Dear [Candidate Name]

On behalf of the Toronto Public Library Board, and in partnership with the Ontario Library Association and Federation of Ontario Public Libraries, I am writing to update you on issues and opportunities facing public libraries and to request your support in ensuring all Ontarians have access to the services they provide.

Millions of Ontarians rely on local libraries in their daily lives: to work, to learn, to connect to community and government services, and to find or train for a job. Libraries are far more than books and computers. They are a critical lifeline and safety net for Ontario's most vulnerable people, in large cities and small communities alike. Every day, libraries and library staff confront many of the most difficult challenges facing Ontarians: mental health, homelessness, equity for Indigenous and racialized communities, newcomer integration, and child & youth poverty.

Yet despite these essential supports, many individuals and families across the province are struggling and unable to access the local public library resources they need. Many of these gaps existed prior to the pandemic, but the ongoing health emergency has brought them to a critical point.

The situation for public libraries on Ontario First Nation Reserves is even more challenging because of an unsustainable provincial funding model that has left many closed or with severely reduced access. For many First Nation communities, public libraries serve as an accessible gathering place and information-sharing resource. They are deeply important to maintain a sense of community and to minimize social isolation in these communities, many of which are remote or face systemic social and economic challenges.

Given the critical and far-reaching role of public libraries, I am requesting your support in three priority areas:

- The rapid implementation of a sustainable funding model for public libraries on reserves to ensure that these important local hubs are fully funded and viable, working alongside First Nations Public Library leaders. This includes increasing direct provincial funding support to sustainably fund library operations and ensure a living income for frontline library staff in these communities.
- The creation of an Ontario Digital Public Library to provide critical e-learning support and fair access to modern, digital resources for all Ontario public libraries. By leveraging the Province's significant purchasing power, our libraries can give all Ontarians access to a common core set of high-quality e-learning & online resources and more e-books.
- Increased investments in mental health and addiction crisis intervention services available to the community to support the urgent needs of urban public libraries in addressing safety and security issues. Toronto in particular is a densely populated, complex urban environment where inequalities are growing; these inequalities have been amplified through the pandemic. Toronto Public Library's role in addressing critical social issues has been increasing because social services are not always available, in part, due to insufficient funding for supports and assistance. Vulnerable people experiencing challenges such as mental health issues, addictions and homelessness come to the library as a last resort with nowhere else to go. Increased provincial social services funding to support these vulnerable populations would help address this complex urban reality that is impacting safety and security of staff and the public in some library locations.

On behalf of the Toronto Public Library Board, I would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to further discuss these issues and the opportunity before us to make meaningful changes that will positively impact Ontarians. Should you wish to arrange a meeting, please contact the City Librarian's Office at citylibrarian@tpl.ca or 416-393-7032.

Thank you for your attention.
